

MRS. ADRIAN POOL IS GUEST OF HONOR AT RECEPTION; MRS. H. B. STEVENS & DAUGHTER RECEIVE

By RUTH MONRO AUGER.

MRS. ADRIAN POOL, a recent bride, was the guest of honor at a beautifully appointed reception, given Saturday afternoon, in the parlors of the Woman's club building, by Judge Pool's sisters, Mrs. Van C. Wilson, Misses Julia Pool, Mary Pool, Bertha Pool and Vera Pool. Numerous palms made the reception hall most attractive. The drawing room was ornamented with many bouquets of pink carnations in cut-glass vases. Festoons of southern cacti connected the vases and pink candles in crystal sticks were about. Here the guests were received by the hostesses.

Mrs. Wilson wore a gown of black embroidered net over white satin, with trimmings of iridescent beads. Mrs. Pool was dressed in pink net over rose pink silk, with a tunic of opalescent beads, made in the tabard effect.

Miss Bertha Pool wore a gown of pink charmeuse, with net trimmings and touches of brown fur.

Miss Mary Pool was dressed in turquoise blue satin, with a wide girdle, embroidered in gold.

Miss Julia Pool was in white silk, with a wide girdle, with white satin.

Miss Vera Pool wore pale yellow satin, combined with silk net.

Tea was served at a very pretty arranged table. Yellow jonquils, long stemmed, with violets about their base, formed the centerpiece. White candles in crystal sticks, tied with bows of yellow and violet tulle, were about the table. Upon the mantle was an ornate vase of lavender hue, filled with

Facts About Bread

White bread was introduced into London by Hugh Paddington nearly a hundred years ago.

Japanese bread is shaped somewhat like a stick of bamboo, being sold in strings.

Scandinavian bread is disc shaped, with a hole at the center for packing on poles.

Wholemeal bread contains the whole grain of wheat—kernel, germ and bran.

The bread of the Balkans is made in chains, and is sold according to length.

In some districts of France the peasants make their bread from acorns.

Newly baked bread is indigestible because fermentation is still taking place.

The sun-dried bread of Central Asia is made from flour and raskin syrup.

In Finland bread is frequently made from pinebark and moss.

The French war loaf is made up with malle, barley or lupines.

MRS. HORACE B. STEVENS and her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Stevens, were hostesses at a delightful reception Saturday afternoon, at their home on Union avenue. Quantities of jonquils and daffodils, in baskets and vases through the room, made most attractive decorations.

Mrs. Stevens and her daughter received the guests in the living room. Mrs. Stevens wore a gown of black net over cloth of gold. The net was ornamented with gold embroidery. She wore a corsage bouquet of orchids and hyacinths.

Miss Stevens was dressed in pink satin, with drapery of silver lace, extending from the bodice in front, forming the angel sleeve drapery over the shoulders and finishing in a cap effect in the back, trimmed with tassels of silver. She carried a bouquet of orchids and violets, tied with purple cord.

Assisting in entertaining the guests were Mesdames Henry Easter, W. H. Kinnon, J. A. Rawlings, Charles E. Stevens, Henry T. Bowie and Miss Ora W. L. Slater.

A salad course was served in the dining room. Mesdames Easter, Kinnon, Rawlings, Stevens, Bowie and Slater, assisted in serving. The girls assisting in serving were Mrs. Horace B. Stevens, Jr., Mrs. Sidney Graves, Misses Sarah Bridges, Ethel Crawford, Frances Earle, Stella Brick, Fama Rickman, Beulah Brown, Mary Kaye Alves, Helen Stratton, Virginia Simpson, and Misses A. B. Moore.

An orchestra played through the reception. Several hundred guests called during the afternoon.

Margaret Stevens and Katherine Seamon met the guests at the door and received the cards.

Later in the evening, Miss Stevens entertained the girls who were assisting and a number of young men at a buffet supper. Then the party attended the dance at the El Paso Country club. The men guests for the supper were Ernest Sauer, Wilbur Elliott, Harvey Wilcox, Dr. Richard Bell, L. J. Jones, Robert G. Jones, Sidney C. Graves, George Gachwin, Oscar A. Smith, Horace L. McBride and Francis M. Brannan.

Dinners, Luncheons, Teas.

Mrs. J. G. Barada was hostess to the Saturday luncheon club, at her home on Dover street. The prizes were won by Mrs. H. E. Christie and Miss Kate Stoker. After the games a Valentine luncheon was served. Red and white were used for the decorations. The club will meet next week at the home of Miss Lucile Smith.

Mrs. J. A. Rawlings entertained the pupils of her class in the Sunday school of the church of St. Clement, with a delightful luncheon and Valentine party, at her home on Lee street, Saturday. The Valentine idea was used in the decorations and favors. Red was the color scheme that was carried out in the four course luncheon. Games were played in the afternoon. Those present were Misses Safford, Dorothy Rogers, Josephine Morfit, Lucy Ord Kemper, Rachel Bornt, Eleanor Slater and Cora McKnight.

The Army.

The cavalry officers of the district of El Paso are giving a smoker Tuesday evening, in the eighth cavalry officers' club at Fort Bliss, in honor of the cavalry officers of the punitive expedition who were just returned from Mexico. A number of cabaret features have been arranged. The eighth and 11th cavalry bands will play during the evening. The affair is now located, where the cavalry is now located, will be sounded, to bring the officers to the club. The party will begin at 8 o'clock.

Lodges and Clubs.

Willow grove, Woodmen circle, entertained Saturday night with a social at the Odd Fellows' hall. The officers of the grove were the committee in charge. Mrs. Charles Correll was the prize in 500 and Mrs. A. Payne the buncie prize. Refreshments were enjoyed later in the evening. The affair was well attended.

Automobiling.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Brown and Mrs. Charles L. Overstreet, who left the last of the week on a motor trip to Santa Rita, N. M., will return tonight. Mrs. Brown is accompanied by the sons of Mrs. Brown, Milton Brown, the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Brown.

The GOSSIP CORNER

By RUTH MONRO AUGER.

THE presentation of Mrs. J. A. Rawlings by the El Paso Equal Franchise league as a candidate for membership on the school board of the city is one of the most splendid things that has yet been done by a woman's organization. For years the women of every class and organized society in town have been saying: "We ought to have a woman on the school board. The mothers of this city should have a mother representing them on our city school board." But beyond a universal expression of sentiment in favor of woman school board membership, nothing has been done until now. Of all the many able and efficient women in the city, perhaps none other is quite so well qualified to be the pioneer in this position as Mrs. Rawlings. She has uncommonly good business judgment and executive ability and an unusual sense of team work. This latter has been particularly brought out in her work in the Young Women's Christian association, as chairman of the finance committee of the board of directors, a position that she has held for many years and which has filled most admirably. Mrs. Rawlings is the mother of a family of three attractive children and is an excellent housewife. Previous to her marriage, Mrs. Rawlings was school teacher, and has held many positions of responsibility, filling all most creditably.

Fanny Mapel, the young daughter of

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mapel, is a little El Pasoan who is displaying much cleverness in her studies. She plays the piano remarkably well for a child of her years.

It has been decided by the post hop committee that there will be a hop Wednesday night in the Officers' club at Fort Bliss, and on Wednesday night, in spite of the fact of the Valentine masquerade party of the El Paso Country club. At first, there was talk of holding the hop at the El Paso Country club, but as a great number of the country club members do not belong to the country club, it was decided that there were enough people to go to both parties. Consequently the regular weekly hop will be held at the Officers' club and one of the crack military bands will play the dance music.

Society folk had quite a busy and delightful afternoon of it Saturday with the two big receptions occurring at the same time. Most of the guests that were invited to meet the bride and bridegroom, Mrs. Adrian Pool, were also asked to the reception given by Mrs. H. B. Stevens and her daughter, Elizabeth Stevens. Mrs. Stevens and her daughter were also asked to the reception given by Mrs. H. B. Stevens and her daughter, Elizabeth Stevens. Mrs. Stevens and her daughter were also asked to the reception given by Mrs. H. B. Stevens and her daughter, Elizabeth Stevens.

Mrs. W. H. Kinnon is one of the handsomest women in town. She is a delight to see, because she is very wholeheartedly sincere and democratic in everything she does. She has that every happy combination of graciousness and cordiality of manner, and with an almost regal poise, she carries herself splendidly. At the reception Saturday by Mrs. H. B. Stevens and her daughter, Mrs. Kinnon wore a very lovely gown of black net, ornamented in a pleasing pattern of blue sequins, over white satin. She wore two magnificent opal ornaments, for she is not the least superstitious.

Pupils of El Paso School For Girls Are Given Midyear Dance

STUDENTS of the El Paso School for Girls and their friends enjoyed a very delightful evening Saturday at the mid-year dance of the school, given by the principals, Miss Ora W. L. Slater and Miss Olga Tafel, in the recreation room of the school, on Terrace street. A march opened the dance. It was led by Dorothy Knott and Bryan Brown. Lydia Happer and Robert Markham were the second couple. They were followed by Eleanor Falconer and Jack Thompson and Ruth Schwartz and Ervin Schwarz. A number of pretty figures were introduced into the march. A confetti battle of roseleaf confetti was a jolly climax of the march, and at the close of the party serpentine confetti balls were distributed among the guests and caused much jollity. Among those present were Miss John B. Slater, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Polk, and of the faculty Misses Susan Grothe, Anne McTearney, Fay Brown, and Misses Ruth and Marion Maddocks and Georgina Martin. The students present were Dora Grothe, Mary Laws, Dorothea Rainberg, Janet Falconer, Margaret Ormabee, Betty Safford, Minnie Silverman, Louise Crawford, Ruth Silverman, Mary Alice Sayles, Helen Lawson, Katherine Dick, Eleanor Falconer, Lydia Happer, and Fred Woods, Charlotte Harris, Harry Ainsie, Paula Krupp, Iva Armstrong, Eleanor Slater, Josephine Morfit, Helen Brown, and Misses Ruth and Marion Maddocks. Their guests were Miss E. Canty, Miss Louis Tafel, Margaret Ormabee, John Gold, Richard Tickle, Clifford Irvin, Malcolm Webb, John C. Slater, Don Pat, Ervin Schwarz, Charles L. A black and white yamma yamma costume party will be given at the Officers' club at Fort Bliss on the evening of February 21, in place of the usual weekly hop. The hop committee announced that the costumes will be obligatory for all attending the party and that this rule will be enforced. The decorations of the hall will be in black and white, and it is expected that all attending will use these colors in their costumes.

Parties.

A Valentine party was given by Miss Jean Strickland, the last of the week, for the members of the Junior Epworth League of Trinity Methodist church. The party occurred at the home of the hostess on Grant avenue. Red and white streamers and strands of white and red beads were used as attractive decorations. The game of hearts was played and the first prize was won by Madeline Conover, with a Bennett receiving the consolation prize. An ice course was served after the games. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Strickland, who were the guests of honor, were assisted by their daughter in entertaining. A GOOD WINTER HABIT

Many people dread winter because the sudden climatic changes bring colds, grippe, rheumatism, tonsillitis or bronchitis. But thousands of well-informed men and women today avoid much sickness for themselves and their children by taking a few bottles of Scott's Emulsion to make richer blood, fortify the membranes of the throat and chest and create body-heat to resist sickness. Soldiers at war receive cod liver oil; it will also strengthen you.
